something truly your own

At the Australian Bullion Company our goal is to ensure that each customer goes home with jewellery that he or she truly feels is their own.

In many cases our customers fall in love with the pieces that they find in our catalogues. However, often they see elements within a piece with which they immediately form a connection and others which do not fit their tastes. In these cases we strongly encourage our customers to collaborate with our Master Designer to develop their own bespoke pieces of jewellery.

Our 'Blue Rhapsody' ring is a particularly inspiring piece for many of our customers, its combination of purity with strength (white diamond with blue sapphire) is a classic affinity that many customers adore, however its size and design are not to everyone's tastes. The variations on the next page illustrate some of the beautiful pieces that have resulted from the inspiration that some of our customers have gained from this ring.

Left: 18ct white gold diamond and sapphire ring $13,800.

VARIATION 1

White diamond, blue side stones. Elegance: A smaller piece that shifts focus from the strength of the sapphire to the purity of a white diamond.

Left: 18ct white gold diamond and sapphire ring $16,800.

VARIATION 2

Blue sapphire, white diamond side stones. Indulgence: Similarly to Variation 1, the reduced size of this piece renders it a more subtle expression of the sapphire, diamond affinity, however, for this piece the dominance of the sapphire is maintained.

Left: 18ct white gold diamond and sapphire ring $7700.

VARIATION 3

Vertical sapphire and diamond pendant. Sophistication: Many of our pieces are designed to compliment another. This pendant could be matched to any of the rings on this page to form a stunning evening combination.

jewellery is our pasion

Throughout my 31 years of being a jewellery designer I have come to truly appreciate the intimacy that accompanies a genuinely successful piece of jewellery. Over this time, my clients have come in to purchase jewellery for all manner of reasons, however, in almost every case, I am called to reflect upon a deeply personal emotion such as love, soothing, excitement or joy.

The understanding and cultivation of these emotions has been one of the most rewarding aspects of my career. I have found that my most successful designs almost always come from developing an understanding of my clients which I gain by taking them through the design process, all the way from my hand sketches through to the end product. In each case, this organic process of design allows clients to elevate their own individuality, resulting in pieces that they truly own and treasure.

This is why I feel so strongly about ensuring clients have the ability to provide as much input into the design process that they feel comfortable with.

Please feel free to contact myself with any of your jewellery queries. Whether you're looking to purchase a new piece or would just like some further information on our services, I'm always happy to help.
